It wasn't too discouraging about the heat the last 40 days or so until Alvin Heftt, official city weather records man, showed us how little rain there has been.

Last notion of rainfall was .03 of an inch July 1. Then came the hot spell that sent official temperatures boiling to 107 while unofficial temperatures ranged as high as 112.

Up to July 1, rainfall had been a good average of about 16 inches for the first six months. Then someone cut the switch.

103 - 103 - 103

When asked whether they knew of any good jokes except maybe the weather, some of The Herald staff looked kind of grim.

"Well," said we, "all we could think of to write about was the weather."

Obviously the 100 - degree weather wasn't funny.

A note: We hope that library boosters in Cameron will remind their city councilmen of the interest in seeing the $900 request for the library put into the 1962-63 budget.

The Council is currently drawing up plans for a budget which is due September. The Librarian, now in a good location, needs some basic support so that funds raised by campaign can be used for permanent improvements and ultimate construction of a new building.

Cameron Schools have sold the old frame building once housing the Library and the old GI School. It will make space for parking.

Cameron Man, 24 Dies Of Shotgun Wound In Temple

A 24-year-old Cameron man died Tuesday in a Temple hospital of an accidental gunshot wound suffered Monday at his home.

Dead was Henry Ernest Lewis, 24, Negro, of 809 North Polk. Lewis told relatives and an attending physician before he died that the 12 - gauge shotgun discharged accidentally Monday night while he was cleaning it.

Police Chief Elvin Hoskins said Tuesday that relatives quoted Lewis as saying his wounding was accidental. The blast hit him in the left breast.

Lewis was taken to a Cameron hospital and later transferred to Scott & White in Temple for emergency treatment. In critical condition throughout the night Monday, he died Tuesday.

Chief Hoskins said Lewis' grandfather, Cleveland Lewis, heard a gunshot and found his grandson wounded. The elder Lewis lives next door on North Polk.

Lewis' wife died about two months ago, leaving two small children. His mother is Mrs. Lizzie Ann Williams, of Cameron.

A Rugged Individual ... Part I

THE TUMLINSON STORY

By Frank M. Luecke

Modern Texans talk about "rugged individualism" without really knowing how to describe it.

Storybooks and, with luck, recollections of forefathers who had "bootstrap" careers, are the usual sources.

In this story, the symbol is a contemporary of modern Milam County, a man who believed in himself enough to dream and achieve a lifetime of experience only an old Horatio Alger book might publish.

This man, still a symbol to a hundred different men who knew him, was 66-year-old O. G. Tumlinson, who died recently at his T-Bar Ranch home near Cameron. His "secret" took him to major Texas agricultural posts, a directorship in an insurance company and ownership of his Milam County ranch.

O. G. held an open secret, one that was more than a desire to compete. His was an eternal optimism, happy with a chance to do something, preferring a risk over a sure thing.

His wife, Maude Weaver Tumlinson tells well his story, truly that of an adventurer.

MONTANA HOMESTEAD

She learned quickly from her daring young husband who took her to Montana in 1919 to homestead, 50 wasteland miles from the nearest town. They lived in a hut that 20th century housewives would loathe to enter.

Perhaps young Tumlinson, just out of the Army and still wearing his lieutenant's field uniform, was a brash in this early adventure. But his determination to pioneer was ended only by the terrible weather that much of the 13 months offered him and his bride.

Tumlinson and Maude returned to Texas, where his college training qualified him as a county agent in the pioneering agriculture Extension Service.

It was to be a quiet life at Pearsall for the next eight years, quite unlike his beginnings in a pioneer Texas family and a hazardous drive to get an education at Texas A & M.

THOSE NICKNAMES

The mark of individualism certainly could be found in Tumlinson's nicknames, "Tummy" being the early one coined for the determined young man from Verdi, barely a crossroads near San Antonio. Later he was called "Colonel" or "O. G.", but hardly ever by given names Otto Gurus.

"Tummy", wound up with a will to get his college training, came to Texas A & M the hard way. Undiscouraged because he had no formal schooling, he started anyway.

"He didn't have money enough to stay in school," Mrs. Tumlinson said, "and hardly enough to get there."

Just off the farm, this next youngest of 11 Tumlinson children admittedly wasn't told he could get a through - ticket on the train to College Station. He bought a ticket at each station for the next, until Austin. Held over by some Texas students for two days, he finally got a train direct to College Station.

He came back to resume service as state secretary of the PCC. Then, after 32 years, he joined with brother Vic and bought the old Riverside Farm, where he created the T-Bar Ranch, a home for his family and a herd of white - face herefords.

It was a dream fulfilled, a dream bankers told him he couldn't realize. It was a dream he went to Mexico for a few weeks to try to finance.

A Study Of Character

THE TUMLINSON STORY

HOW TO STAY

"Tummy's" main problem was staying. And to solve it, he gathered in upperclassmen's uniforms supposedly for delivery to a pressing shop and pressed them himself. His work, using an old iron without ironing board, was at first unsatisfactory. As a lowly "fish" (Freshman), he took a chance. But the word got around his pressing service was good and business improved. He and Sandy Alderson, of Alpine, kept busy enough to earn a minimum income.

Known as a doer, Tumlinson pressed uniforms and studied animal husbandry for three years - but the U. S. entry into World War I stirred a patriotic fervor that ended with "Taps" at his Cameron graveside.

He joined the first officers training school at Leon Springs, near San Antonio, the first year of the war. But "Tummy" never went to war. He was likely disappointed.

About this time he married Maude, of Speegleville, who attended CIA, now Texas Women's University. In 1919 they went to Montana, the frozen Missouri River and the homestead with perhaps $11 between them.

BACK IN TEXAS

After Montana, it was Pearsall as county agent and wife, Maude married Tummy and agriculture. Tumlinson worked for eight years pioneering programs for better farming in the Pearsall area, but it apparently lost its challenge. For a couple of years, he tried real estate around the 3,000 - resident town. And during these early years four sons were born. They were all soon to return to A & M. Their father was to finish the work for his bachelor of science, interrupted 20 years before by the war.

His promotion to district agent sent the Tumlinsons to Bryan after tours at Albany and Lubbock. Finally in 1940, he was named secretary of the Production Credit Corporation in Texas, a federally financed state agency making long - term loans to farmers. He had arrived in Texas agriculture. He commuted from his Houston office to Bryan, while his youngsters were going to school, one to A & M.

World War II called him back into service, now a reserve major. He served some four years, becoming a lieutenant colonel in charge of a Ninth Air Force Depot Group in France. Later he was a full colonel and commander of the 917th Air Reserve Group, Austin.

He came back to resume service as state secretary of the PCC. Then, after 32 years, he joined with brother Vic and bought the old Riverside Farm, where he created the T-Bar Ranch, a home for his family and a herd of white - face herefords.

It was a dream fulfilled, a dream bankers told him he couldn't realize. It was a dream he went to Mexico for a few weeks to try to finance.

Lt. Col. Tumlinson
... His Second War

to help find a gold mine. With several other men, he went to the mountains on the Pacific side of Old Mexico literally in search of gold. For a few weeks it appeared they might make it, but Mexican currency control prevented it.

At 52, without his gold but lots of gleam, the Colonel found himself enough to join with Brother Vic in making the deal. And he came to Milam County.

Old as it is, Milam thought a while before it could recall a man like the Colonel. Wise in the ways of agriculture, of military leadership and just naturally yearning to solve more than 2,000 acres of ranch problems, he plunged into the stream of farm life here.

A BUSY MAN

He became president of the Milam Farm Bureau for three years and helped build it into one of the largest county groups of that statewide organization. He spoke loud and long of his attitudes of conservatism. Sometimes he was rebuked. But more often he was heard and followed.

The Colonel made brisk forays into the political and economic problems of modern life. He debated with conviction, then listened, then debated once more, a resolute man indeed.

In recent years, he presided over the Little River Water Conservation Association, whose members worked to stop damaging overflows from Belton Reservoir. He started the machinery that brought the Southwest's most modern dairy operation to Cameron from Florida. He commanded the local American Legion and joined the Rotary Club.

GRIM 'BEAR'

And then, typical of his kind and kin, the Colonel fought grimly with fatality, a cancer he termed a "bear" which finally drained him of life July 27.

There were full military honors and uniforms at his funeral. A host of friends filled the small church he had joined only a year or so before, the Cameron Church of Christ. And as he would have liked it, there were "Taps" and military honor guard which, for a moment, gave Cameron's cemetery a ringing volley, somewhat like another cemetery in Arlington, Va.

He was at rest.

PRESSING AT A&M -- Tumlinson's unique approach to financing his college education began with the iron in his hand (right foreground) and without upperclassman permission. His desire won out, and as this picture shows, business and his chance to stay in school prospered. World War I beckoned him away from finishing. He completed his bachelor's degree 20 years later after serving about 18 years in the Extension System.

Season Tickets On Sale Sat. Only

Yoemen Booster Club members are making a day - long effort Saturday to sell all 350 football season tickets at Yoe Field.

Twenty - one salesmen will be contacting football boosters throughout Cameron Drive headquarters are the Western Room of The Texan Cafe.

Tickets are for five home games for $5. This is a savings of $1.25 game reserved seats, which sell for $1.25 per game.

Principal Jack Hughes, of Yoe High School, outlined the program to Cameron Booster Club members Monday night.

ALL RESERVED

Hughes pointed out that all seats will be reserved in Section B, below the pressbox, and that all school-age children must have tickets.

Children below school age need not have tickets, but parents take the risk of being unable to find vacant seats for their children if they do not buy a season ticket. When vacant seats exist, the pre-schoolers may occupy them.

Purchasing a season ticket for Club to broaden interest in all ing a public nuisance in many parts of the city. Action was assured by Police Chief Elvin Hoskins.

Councilmen reread the ordinance on dog control. It contains penalties and fines for allowing dogs to go stray and unvaccinated.

In a Council meeting Tuesday, Councilmen also heard a request from County - Atty. Jack Prescott for transcripts of five City Court cases which have been appealed to County Court.

Prescott said the law requires filing of transcripts of cases appealed from City to County Court. Mayor Dumcun referred that matter to City - Atty. Charles C. Smith.

In the rest of a short official Council meeting, reports from City water, public works and police departments were reviewed.

Public Works Supt. J. B. Earle reported several projects in the process of completion. They included: Processing and prime coating Jefferson Avenue from Main Street to Gillis Street, base work and prime coat on Jefferson Avenue at Newton Memorial Hospital, completion of two - coat paving at E. 20th St. and Cleveland, work on Washington Avenue base, work on 12th Street from Jackson to Cleveland and completion of double - coat penetration of West First Street between Crockett and College Avenues.

SAME 95 - CENT RATE APPLIED FOR FISCAL '62

A $556,370 estimate for the 1963 Milam County Budget was approved last Thursday by the County Commissioners Court. This is about $2,370 higher than in 1962 and about $2000 lower than the 1960 budget.

The new budget is based on the same 95 cents per $100 valuation used in recent years. The serviceable valuation in Milam County is estimated at $31 millions.

The largest item is the General Fund with expected receipts of $149,470 and disbursements of $79,615 plus an estimated transfer of $30,000 to the officers salary fund, a common practice in many counties.

The Jury Fund has receipts of $11,200 with estimated disbursements of $9,825 which is an increase of $3,376 over 1961. This increase is due mainly to an increase in budgets for petit jurors and special venues.

The Courthouse and Jail Fund has receipts of $15,500 with estimated disbursements of $12,905. $10,000 was borrowed in 1961 for this fund.

The officers Salary Fund, which has no tax fund but gets its receipts from fees and a state fund has receipts of $70,500 without the transfer of $30,000 from the General Fund. The estimated disbursements are $106,452.91.

The General Road and Bridge Fund, which uses an estimated 27 cents per $100 valuation has receipts expected to total $125,790. Disbursements total $124,820.

The four precinct budgets disbursements are:
PRECINCT 1 - Buckholts - $45,080
PRECINCT 2 - Cameron - $75,118.86
PRECINCT 3 - Rockdale - $73,325
PRECINCT 4 - Thordale - $55,790

The percentages each precinct receives are set by a formula fixed by the commissioners Court by State Law.

On December 13, 1961 the total balance of all funds was $186,178.98 with $178,933.04 in the operative funds.

On Dec. 31, 1961, securities owned by the county included a par value of $40,500 of Road Districts nos. 10 and 14, City of Rockdale. Par value securities of eight school district total $69,400. Outstanding securities of Road and Bridge Trust warrants of Nos. 2 and 4 total $44,027.30. This difference is $35,872.50.

County Agents Notes...

More Livestock In Milam Future

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

All indications point toward more livestock production for Milam county with the increase most noticeable in beef cattle followed by swine and dairying, in this order. At the recent annual Beef Cattle Short Course held at A & M College, J. H. Knox, Head of the Department of Animal Husbandry, New Mexico State University, gave the following report:

"Pioneer cattlemen contend with the forces of nature and problems of a primitive economy. Modern cattlemen are beset by the problems of a highly developed competitive economy. In the dark days of the depression predictions were made that the cattle business would never come back. This industry, which was most depressed, emerged as the most prosperous large segment of American Agriculture. Beef cattle numbers have doubled since 1920, while other classes of livestock have declined or remained about the same.

The needs of a rapidly growing population with improved living standards must be met. Will this be done by expanding dairy, poultry and hog production, all of which are producing high quality protein at prices below that for beef; by increased imports from countries with lower costs; or by increased production and efficiency in our industry? Our goal should be to supply consumers with the amount and kind of beef they want at prices which are competitive and still yield a profit to the producer. In this century the U. S. changed from the largest exporter to the second largest importer of beef. Improvements in refrigeration and shipping deprived us of our export trade. Further improvements have made it possible to improve beef from around the world over our tariffs.

The change from animal to mechanical power has had a profound effect on agriculture and the entire economy. The beef cattle industry has grown in the past 40 years, mostly from feed formerly used by horses and mules. There were less roughage eating animal units in the U. S. in 1957 than 40 years earlier. It is only in the last 5 years that more roughage has been used.

Beef production has increased in all major regions to different degrees and for various reasons. Highest percentage gain has been in the southern region. Continued rapid growth in the south can be attained by reclaiming land now largely unused and by fertilization and improved nutrition. Expansion has been greatest in the breeding and fattening phases. Cow numbers have doubled since 1920 and are about 3 times those in 1930.

100 YEARS

One hundred years of service by the state land grant college system and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be commemorated at a luncheon September 5 at Texas A & M College. The Morrill Act, which established the land-grant college system, and the establishment of the USDA were both approved into law in 1862 by President Abraham Lincoln.

Relaxed Chickens Mean More Profit

COLLEGE STATION — Many complex and complicated methods have been devised to increase the egg and meat production in poultry flocks. But a new and unusual one is recommended by Joe Wakefield, Poultry Science Department, Texas A & M College.

Reduce the tension in your flock and you will have one that will produce more efficiently, says Wakefield. Chickens are governed by a similar type of psychology as that of the human race and a peck order, or pattern of social habits of the birds, determines the behavior of the entire flock, according to Wakefield.

Some chickens are leaders and some are followers and a bird is in for a fight if it violates its place in the order. The peck order influences the feed consumption and the sexual behavior and eventually the flock's production efficiency, states Wakefield.

Chickens by habit peck their inferiors and avoid their superiors but in a large flock they may get the two mixed. Since this could prove dangerous if a social superior were attacked, chickens should not have to travel into strange areas of the pen to water, feed, nest and roost.

When birds do not have to travel more than 10 or 15 feet there is less danger of encountering social superiors and thus less tension and stress in the flock. The pen may actually be divided into many regional peck orders and birds may never leave their own small region, says Wakefield. It will also help to reduce tension in the flock if new birds are not introduced into established flocks and birds of different ages are not mixed, he adds.

The establishment of normal social patterns among chickens can reduce tension and the flock will settle down to the efficient production every poultryman wants, Wakefield explains.

Arthur Jistel and Henry Abel, Jr., Swine; Bernard Kostroun and Dwight Lester, Electric; Mike Rek, Dairy; Larry Jungmann and Leon Hollas, Poultry; Susan Abel, Fire Prevention; Brent Laywell, Reed Davis and John Grimm, Texas Sheep & Wool; Goat & Mohair; Bailey McNulty, Beautification of Home Grounds; Wanye Jistel Garden; Betty Margaret Orr and Melvin Hollas, Safety; Joe Paul Mueck, Tractor; Jane Mueck, Field Crops; Margie Vansa, Home Economics; Penny Graves, Santa Fe; Randy Graves, Swine; Mary Hulse, Clothing; Kathleen Kostroun, Recreation and Cindy Reese, Canning.

Record books placing first in county will be sent to District contest at Stephenville, Tuesday. Winners in the Senior Contest will complete in the State Contest in September.

All record books turned in were exceptionally good this year.

More Coastal Bermuda In Milam This Year

Farmers and ranchers planted more coastal Bermuda in Milam County this year than ever before in a single year. Hundreds of acres were planted from January to June. These plantings were made in many ways and with different types of planting equipment. Likewise, this grass was planted on nearly every soil type in the area. As we go into August after a very dry July, we can see which plantings were a success.

Soil Conservation Service technicians find in talking to District cooperators throughout the county that the overall success in this year's plantings was very good. Some got caught in the May dry period and lost some stands, others took chances on late plantings in June and were not too successful.

Contract planters, Soil Conservation District cooperators and Soil Conservation Service technicians are all close to agreement on some points that are very important to anyone considering planting coastal Bermuda. They are: first, be sure you are planting good fresh roots, second, plant on a good seedbed and third, control competition.

Our local contract planters here all demand fresh roots. They do not like to plant roots that have been out of the ground over two days and these are kept watered and at the proper temperatures. The seedbed is very important. Some contractors refuse jobs where a poor seedbed may lower a farmer's chances of getting a good stand. Lawrence Vrazel, who has been very successful establishing waterways, says "Prepare your land as if you were going to plant cotton on it."

Competition starts early and stays late. It can knock a stand out completely or delay it for a year or two. Clyde Hensley says that it will pay to make plans to plow your grass at least once, then follow up with shredding or chemical control.

There are many other factors such as temperature, dry winds, rainfall, etc. that affect the success of a coastal Bermuda planting but the roots, seedbed and competition are three things that the planter can control. If he will do a good job here, his chances for a good stand of grass are increased to a great extent and a lot of the risk is taken out of an expensive operation.

There are many end of the season sales in progress, perhaps these suggestions will help you to be quality conscious rather than sale conscious.

TIPS ON SUMMER SUITS

Here are some tips for the man who is in the market for a washable summer suit.

It would be wise to check these points before buying:

1. Suiting. A smooth - weave material that resists soil and is lightweight but not so thin it shows through. Select a suiting that resists wrinkles, will not shrink or stretch, and is colorfast to light, perspiration and washing. A label, tag or pocket suiter should provide facts about qualities you can't see.

2. Construction materials. Interfacings, pockets bindings, tapes are light weight but firm. Be sure trouser waistband interfacing is permanently firm and that none of the facings will shrink more than the suiting.

3. Lining. A skeleton lining of self material and no lining in the sleeves make a summer suit cool to wear and easy to press.

4. Workmanship. The suit should be neatly finished both inside and out. Lines of construction are thin, especially at edges and corners. The seams are protected against fraying. Thick, lumpy construction slow drying and makes pressing difficult.

COLORS FOR FALL

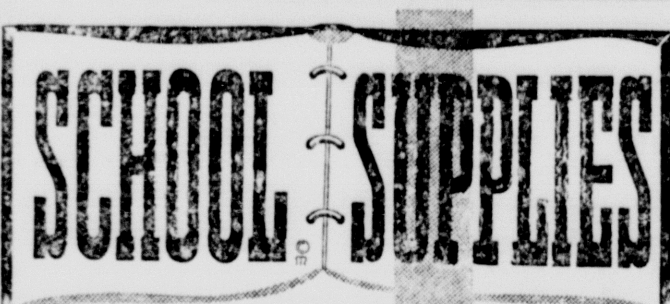

Whether big fashion or basic, back to school clothes this fall conform to a classic color scheme.

Brown - ranging from pale beige to deep dark is the leader in the color field. Camel and grey combinations also will be seen in the school and dress wear. Muted colors will be brightened with vibrant reds, blues and greens.

Most fabrics will have a flat, smooth surface. Woven cotton will be favored in girl's dresses while melton is a leader in coats. Knit will be flattened and popular. Separates will be available by item choice in traditional plaids, sweaters, boy coats and simple blouses.

START DAY WITH BREAKFAST
Eat a good breakfast for good health and weight control. Eating a good breakfast prevents nibbling on high calorie snacks or overeating at other meals. A good basic breakfast requires, fruit, or fruit juice, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

Yoe Footballers "Sweat It Out"

Drills Begin For Yoe Gridders

The Yoemen gridders are now engaged in two-day workouts in preparation for the coming football season. They hold one practice in the morning and the evening practice under the lights.

Coach John Roberts termed the first workouts rough and unpolished, but were to be expected because the coaches and the players are together on the field for the first time.

The morning workout consists of an hour meeting and then the team hits the field for an hour and forty-five minute work periods. The team goes through drills and light contact work.

The evening workout starts at 7 p. m. with a 15 minute meeting. The team is in full pads and performs the heavier contact and scrimmage work.

Roberts splits the team up into four groups according to position and each group works on drills and fundamentals needed for their position. Part of this time is spent on developing the neck and other areas vulnerable to injury. Most of the drills are also tied in with the development of quick reflexes.

All of the practices are open to the public and everyone is invited to come out and watch.

Roberts also announced that the Yoemen will scrimmage Thorndale Saturday, September 1, at Yoe Field. The exact time has not been set, but the game will be played at night.

Cameron starts the football season off with Rosebud on Sept. 7 and season tickets are now on sale by the Cameron Booster Club. Roberts said that the two-day workouts will continue until school starts on Sept. 4. Then regular afternoon workouts will be used to get ready for the games.

Coach John Roberts was guest speaker at a special meeting of the Knights of Columbus last Thursday. Speaking along with him were two of his assistants, Coaches Joe Davis and Sonny Everett.

Roberts outlined the year-round sports program for all age school boys in the Cameron schools. This program will include all sports in season. The intramural program will consist of competition between the grades in the schools.

Davis spoke about and showed the equipment which the varsity team will wear this year. This equipment is the best that can be purchased in terms of durability and protection. All of the equipment is designed to spread the blow over an area of the body rather than in one small spot.

Everett spoke and demonstrated blocking and tackling techniques that the coaches will teach this year's Yoemen.

Howell To Be Honored At BU

Taylor University will confer an honorary doctor of laws degree at summer commencement exercises Friday on Hilton E. Howell, chairman of the University's board of trustees.

The Waco attorney and prominent civic leader, former Cameron County judge, has been chairman of the board since 1958. He will deliver the commencement address at Seventh and James Baptist Church to about 200 candidates for degrees.

In making the announcement, Pres. Abner McCall said: "Baylor could not have chosen a more deserving person to receive an honorary degree than Howell. He has worked diligently for those ideals for which Baylor stands."

Receiving the degree will be a highlight in the outstanding career of a farm boy from the sandy land of Lee County who achieved his goal in life - becoming a successful attorney.

Howell was born in 1897 on a sandy land farm near Lexington. At the age of nine he and his family moved to Cameron, where his father, Thomas Andrew Howell, owned and operated a music store.

In 1915 Howell started studying at Baylor, paying his own way with a dozen different jobs. He later joined the Navy and was sent to Harvard University to study wireless radio, then to Massachusetts Institute of Technology as an aviation cadet.

He enrolled in the University of Texas for his last year of undergraduate work before entering law school. He was campus congressman for several large daily newspapers.

Turners Cited In Rockdale On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Turner of Cameron observed their 50th wedding anniversary Aug. 23 when they were honored by their children with an open house in Rockdale at the Frank Skrivane home.

Receiving guests were Mr. Skrivane and his brother V. A. Turner of Seguin. Others welcoming guests were Mr. Skrivane and his wife, Mrs. Skrivane, and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Turner of Corpus Christi.

Gold colored mums and other floral arrangements decorated the home. Mrs. Louis Rinn registered guests.

The refreshment table was laid with a sheer white linen cloth and centered with gold mums. A four-tiered white anniversary wedding cake was embellished in intricate design and trimmed with gold roses. Miss Ruth Kirk was in charge of serving the cake. Mrs. V. A. Turner served fruit punch from a crystal server.

Turner is a native of Birmingham, Ala. His parents came to Texas when he was a small boy. He married Miss Helen Costly, a native daughter of Texas and Milam County. The ceremony took place in the home of Judge and Mrs. Jeff Kemp at Cameron with a Methodist minister officiating.

Turner was associated with the county tax office as a collector until his death. Due to illness, a daughter Mrs. Hortense Hines was unable to attend the celebration and also a son T. C. Turner could not be present.

Friday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank and Mrs. T. H. Turner were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrison and sons Bob and Trey of Houston. They were enroute to Yellow Stone National Park and Canada and other points of interest. Mrs. Harrison is the former Leslie Rose Torno. Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney, Mrs. Mattie Dawson, Dan and Faye spent last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Newton McKinney in Galveston.

Herald Editorial Page

For Improvements: Congratulations:

Congratulations are due to community residents and leaders who are continuing to press for modernization and improvement of civic facilities and business and homes.

Several fine homes are abuilding in the Culpepper Addition. Several others have been completed in recent months on North Travis, East Eighth Street and around the town.

Cameron Country Club is getting an ultra - modern entranceway, dining room and reception area in a continuing move for modernization of traditional facilities. And several businesses are expanding, remodeling and otherwise improving their facilities for more efficient and convenient service.

The City Council has approved an important sewerline project that ultimately will serve a large area of West Cameron which, up to present, has not had such service. This project about completes the cycle of city - wide sewerline service, adding to completion of both sewer and water service to North-west Cameron.

These actions are progressive. It should not be long now to see additional interest in street building and curbing when major investments go into water and sewer services in various neighborhoods.

It has been interesting to note the improvements of homes and businesses as new streets and curbing becomes available in Cameron. We suggest you drive along E. 10th St. or E. 11th St. or along North Jackson and note the improvements in homes that accompanied new street construction there.

The same improvement applies in the downtown area as new fronts go on businesses. Neighboring businesses seem to take natural interest in improving their fronts.

These things do not just happen. Unlike "Topsy," towns do not just grow. They are urged and directed to improve and grow. And Cameron residents are urging these improvements and getting them almost every week.

Let's Hope You Can Say: 'Me Too'

This is a "me too" editorial.

For when we line up for some Sabin over sugar cube, we would like to hear about 20,000 "me toos" from Milam Countians.

In Herald recollection, this is the first opportunity for all Milam Countians to get into the same act, at the same time. There could hardly be any nobler cause than working toward the elimination of polio.

Medical people say within five years polio will be in the category of the bubonic plague, long ago eliminated, if 80 per cent of America will take the oral vaccine.

We would also like to mention the donation following the oral vaccine on SOS Day, September 9.

This stuff is worth far more than 25 cents each, though we are not asked to pay at all. In most cities contributions have ranged from nothing to $250 checks, the latter probably from someone who knew the dread effects of polio. So while we protect ourselves, we might "kick in" a little extra to pay for the Sabin vaccine for those who may not have the inclination or the ability to pay.

Regardless, we hope that everyone in Milam County as well as those tens of thousands of neighboring residents can say "me too" when the conversation and headlines turn to the people who were wise enough to take the vaccine.

Impoundment Goes To Court

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN —When Jim Leonard, executive secretary of the Republican Party in Texas, asked Atty. Gen. Will Wilson to impound ballots in Duval, Zapata and Starr counties, after the general election in November the Fall political campaign immediately got under way.

It was a way, but telling, legal order of impoundment that Wilson filed in the 98th District Court in Austin. It cited the vaults of Duval County's district and county clerk as "not as adequate, accessible and safe" as the vault of the Corpus Christi State Bank.

Same charge was levied against county vaults in Starr and Zapata counties.

Court order instructs election judges and officials in the three South Texas counties to turn ballots, poll lists and all other election records over to a Texas Ranger. He then would deliver them to the Corpus Christi bank for safe keeping until the 98th District Judge or his appointed representative, could examine them.

With this sort of preamble, it looks like the Fall campaign might be a little more exciting than the democrat - dominated ones in past years.

TEXAS IN TOP THREE

Texas returned to the No. 3 spot among the "Top Ten" states, in industrial expansion, as the Texas

Industrial Commission announced the addition of 28 new industries. Although the big Houston and Dallas areas captured 17 of the new plants, 11 companies picked non - metropolitan towns as industrial sites: Bushland, Cornett, Crockett, Denton, Jacksonville, Kaufman, Lewisville, Malakoff, Marfa, Mount Pleasant and Quanah reported new industries.

TIC is a state agency dedicated to stimulating more business in Texas by cooperating with chambers of commerce and other local - level groups in bringing more industries to the state.

Allen Searight, commission's community coordinator, will speak at several industrial development meetings over the state during the next month.

DOUBLE TAXATION

Texas Commission on state and local tax policy has suggested that virtually all intangible personal property held by Texans be exempt from taxation. This includes taxes on bank accounts, securities, mortgages and similar financial assets.

HIGHWAY COSTS LOW

Texas is building its Interstate Highway system for almost $400,000 a mile less than the national average, according to the Texas Highway Department.

U. S. Bureau of Public Roads figures show Texas will complete its portion of the Interstate system at an estimated $600,000 per

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Still Doubts Man Will Find Anything In Space To Equal Home Ground

Dear editor:

A neighbor of mine was awfully depressed the other day while those two Russians were sailing through space.

They're just too far ahead of us," he kept saying. "We debate whether our men will stay up for three or four hours, while they debate whether theirs will stay up for three or four days."

He shook his head as though all was lost and it might not even be worth while fighting again another year.

Well, now, I'll tell you. It's true that ever since Columbus discovered America and opened up the best source of foreign aid Europe ever had, man has been trying to reach out and explore some more, but I'm not sure the moon will be as rewarding to mankind as the discovery of America was. It may not have the soil we've got down here.

I don't know, nobody does, but it's possible that when man, Russian or American, does reach the moon and the first wild excitement of the feat is over and he has a chance to look around up there, he may discover that the earth sure looks good to him. May be like climbing a high mountain - once it's done, it ain't worth doing again.

Then I suppose man will try some other planet, then another, then some more, and still it's possible he won't find anything that'll come within a country mile - or in space terms a million miles - of the pleasant things right outside of my front door or yours.

I'm not saying it's so, but you've got to consider the possibility that being the first man to get to the moon may not be any more important in the long run than being the first man to pole vault 16 feet. It's quite an achievement, but it has little bearing on the continuing fun of living on this fairly comfortable earth.

Understand, I'm not saying there's nothing out in space worth exploring, all I'm saying is that I have a notion that the happiest moment in an astronaut's experience is the feel of the earth when he gets back down. It's no doubt thrilling to orbit the earth, but after three days of it, round and round, twiddling with knobs and looking out a window at nothing, it must get mighty boring, even worse than riding a tractor up one row and down another.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

MENTAL HOSPITALS CROWDED

County judges are blamed for cramming state mental hospitals by committing too many old people, who really just need rest - home care.

Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools reports that some mental institutions - especially the Kerrville State Hospital and the Confederate Home at Austin - are so crowded with old people there isn't enough room to care for the state's mentally ill.

Board member W. G. Kirklin of Odessa said he has been told that some juvenile delinquents, who aren't mentally ill, are also being routed into mental hospitals by judges.

Corrective legislation is being studied.

Dr. C. J. Rullman, director of mental health and hospitals, says facilities for 9,000 elderly people would be needed if the Legislature decided to care for them somewhere other than the mental hospital.

PARKS PLAN DEBATED

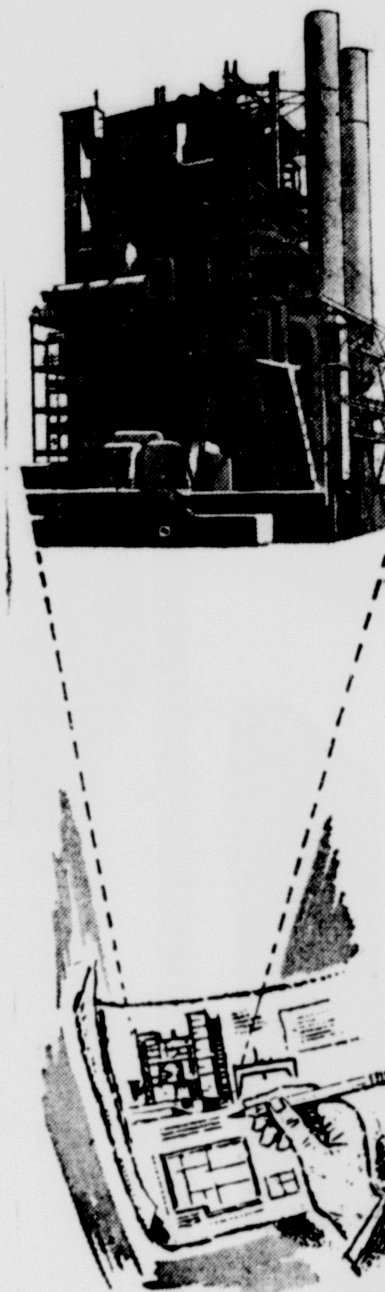

State budget officials and parks experts differed on the popularity of the state's 50 - plus public parks.

Parks Board told the Legislative Budget Board it wants $2,100,000 to improve four parks and increase funds for others.

Reese Martin, vice - chairman of the board, claims record attendance. His optimism about public use of state parks was shared by Elio Urbanovsky and Charles Doell of Texas Tech, who are working on a master plan for Texas' recreation facilities.

But Jess M. Irwin Jr., governor's budget director and Vernon A. McGee, director of the Legislative Budget Board, were reluctant to recommend the Legislature's approval of a plan to:

Spend $600,000 to improve the newly - donated Wheatley Ranch in Blanco County (which already has a state park); $550,000 at Lake Whitney State Park; $650,000 for a new park in the Big Thicket; and $30,000 for a new park at Falcon Lake.

"growability"

"Growability" is a word we use to characterize the experience, knowledge and capacity of Texas Power & Light Company which assure that it can and will supply all of the needs of its customers in the future as it has done in the past.

Since 1912, TP&L has not only kept pace with a steadily increasing rate of use of electricity by its present customers and new customers, but has reduced the per-unit cost of residential electricity to less than half that of 25 years ago. This service has been provided through private investments. Not one penny has been advanced by the government.

Today, the Company serves more than 380,000 customers in its 52-county service area. Today, the Company's program of improvements and additions to its generating plants and lines is well ahead of customers' actual needs. Today, plans are "on the drawing boards" for more than ten years in the future.

Yes... the "growability" of Texas Power & Light Company is proven by its past record and its present performance. You can be confident of an always-ready, always-adequate supply of dependable, low-cost electric power in the years to come.

Mrs. Grover Clay McCullin

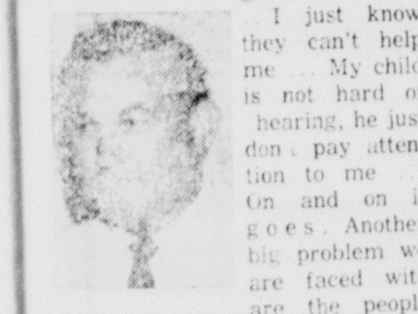

Russell, McCullin Vows Read Saturday

Miss Dorothy Annette Russell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Russell, became the bride of Grover Clay McCullin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCullin in the First Baptist Church Saturday. The bride's father performed the double ring ceremony.

Research Helps Hard Of Hearing

Our Labs and Research Departments are working around the clock to find better ways to help the hard of hearing. Our Doctors are re-schooling themselves on the latest ways to help the hard of hearing. Our newspapers, radio and television are doing all they can to inform the public about this serious problem. Yet, all this we are still fighting a losing battle. The blame falls right back in your lap. With all the research plus holding hearing clinics in your or near your town giving FREE hearing test the American public comes up with the same old stories. "I'll wait awhile. I'm going to get a test one of these days. I've been aiming to, but just haven't got around to it."

I just know they can't help me. My child is not hard of hearing, he just doesn't pay attention to me. On and on it goes. Another big problem we are faced with are the people Mr. Treadway that fit their own Hearing Aids. They will buy an Aid like buying a loaf of bread, or buy one some one else has cast off, or order one through the mail. There is nothing wrong with buying your Aid like this. If you will bring the Aid in and have a complete test made of your hearing loss and have the Aid fitted to you. It's very inexpensive and could prevent you from doing serious damage to the hearing nerve plus giving you better hearing. If you wear a Hearing Aid and still don't hear, it stands to reason something is wrong. Find out what the wrong is and have it corrected. Mr. Treadway who is an Audiologist (not a hearing aid salesman) will hold his regular Hearing Clinic at the Cameron Hotel in Cameron Tuesday, August 28th, from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. If you have a hearing problem of any kind come in and have a test made. Don't be one of the put it offers. The longer you wait the more damage you do to your hearing. If you have a Hearing Aid and can't hear, bring it in and we will see if we can adjust it to you. If you have been told you suffer from Nerve Deafness, we would like to see you. With the new Instrument (not a hearing aid) we have been able to help lots of these cases. If you wear one of the body type Aids we can now take the button and big earmold out of the ear. If you are ashamed of the button and big earmold sticking out your ear come in and see how we make you hear without it. The total cost including adjustment to your Aid is just $10.50.

If you would like to come to our new office in Temple, Mr. Treadway is there every Thursday and Friday.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER FOURTEEN ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 22 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas to authorize the Legislature to provide for trial de novo on all appeals to the courts from actions, rulings or decisions of administrative agencies and executive departments of the State of Texas or any of its political subdivisions.

NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 23 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new Section 12 to read as follows:

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER THIRTEEN ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 6, 1962.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 20 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding a new Section 14 to the Constitution, to read as follows:

"Section 14. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Constitution, the Legislature may authorize the creation of hospital districts in Ochiltree, Castro, Hansford and Hopkins Counties, each district to be co-extensive with the limits of such county. If any such district is created, it shall have the power to levy a tax not to exceed Seventy-five Cents ($0.75) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the district; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property-tax-paying voters who have duly registered for the election. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections so long as the rate does not exceed the maximum limit of Seventy-five Cents ($0.75) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation."

"If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the district shall have the power to levy taxes or issue bonds or other obligations for hospital purposes or for providing medical care within the boundaries of the district, at a rate not to exceed twenty-five cents ($0.25) on the one hundred dollar value of the taxable property within such district for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the district, the indebtedness assumed by it and its maintenance and operating expenses, providing that such district shall not be created or such tax authorized unless approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the district voting at an election called for the purpose, and providing further that the support and maintenance of the district's hospital system shall never become a charge against or obligation of the State of Texas nor shall any direct appropriation be made by the Legislature for the construction, maintenance or improvement of any of the facilities of such district."

"Provided, however, that no district shall be created except by act of the Legislature and then only after thirty (30) days' public notice to the district affected, and in no event may the Legislature provide for a district to be created without the affirmative vote of a majority of the qualified voters in the district concerned."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at the General Election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1962, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create hospital districts and prescribing limitations upon the powers of such districts."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to create hospital districts and prescribing limitations upon the powers of such districts."

Section 3. The Governor of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

"If it appears from the returns of an election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, and that the same has been approved by the Legislature, the same shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this State."

TRANSFORMATION

"Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

"A PLAIN BAR of iron is worth
$5.00

The same bar, when made into horseshoes, is worth $10.50

If made into needles, it is worth
$4,285.00

If turned into balance wheels for watches, it becomes worth $250,000.00."

What transformation — from five to a quarter million!

Even as the iron is helpless to change its form and value, so is a human being helpless without God. But by the exercise of intelligent choice, one may have within himself the transforming power of God, and thereby attain his maximum worth.

God, by the message of His Word — and by the appeal of His church — expresses His desire to help you experience the transformation of His power. He anxiously awaits the response of your faith.

The decision is yours!

The bar of iron, left alone, would lose even its initial worth; and —

"Whoever will save his life shall lose it;
but whoever will lose his life for my sake,
the same shall save it." Luke 9:24
